Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors Operation Homefront, Inc. San Antonio, Texas

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Operation Homefront, Inc., which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2013, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Operation Homefront, Inc., as of December 31, 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Prior Year Audited by Other Auditors

The 2012 financial statements were audited by other auditors and their report thereon, dated June 10, 2013, expressed an unmodified opinion.

Note 1: Nature of Operations

Organization

Operation Homefront, Inc. (Organization), was incorporated in 2002 as CincHouse.com, Inc., an Arizona not-for-profit, for the purpose of providing assistance to deployed military troops and their families. During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Organization's Board of Directors (Board) changed the name of the Organization to Operation Homefront, Inc. The Organization receives funding from community sponsorships and donations and also participates in numerous fundraising events. In June of 2012, the Board of the Organization voted to consolidate the 25 individual chapters into one national chapter, with those locations becoming field offices. This allows the Organization to provide emergency financial and other assistance/services to military families and wounded warriors across the United States through its 23 locations serving 43 states.

Operation Homefront provides direct services to military families to alleviate emergency financial burdens as well as counseling and/or recovery support. Key service areas include:

- Financial assistance
- Emergency food assistance
- Emergency home and appliance repairs
- Critical baby items
- Furniture and household items
- Housing assistance
- Transitional family housing for our wounded warriors

These key service areas are provided through the contribution of goods, gift cards and other services which are recognized at fair value and reflected in the accompanying financial statements as in-kind contributions which are offset by a like amount included as expenses of the Organization.

Operation Homefront also operates a program called Homes on the Homefront (Homefront), which receives donated houses from certain financial institutions. These homes are located throughout the United States and are made available to eligible military family and veteran candidates. Operation Homefront is tasked with identifying and placing eligible candidates in those homes, mortgage free. Contributions of these homes are recognized at the estimated fair value, as provided by an appraisal, when deeded over to Operation Homefront, less the present value of the estimated closing costs of transferring these homes to the deserving candidate.

In May 2013, Army Homefront Fund, Inc., an affiliate organization of Operation Homefront, Inc., was dissolved and its remaining net assets totaling $86,138 were transferred to Operation Homefront, Inc.

Note 2: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements of Operation Homefront have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and include only the activities of the Organization. The significant accounting policies followed in preparing the accompanying financial statements are described below.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue, expenses, gains, losses and other changes in net assets during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Operation Homefront considers all liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. At December 31, 2013 and 2012, cash equivalents consisted of a money market account.

The financial institutions holding Operation Homefront's accounts are participating in the FDIC's Transaction Account Guarantee Program. Under that program, aggregate account balances are insured up to $250,000 per participating financial institution. At December 31, 2013, Operation Homefront had interest-bearing cash accounts that exceeded federally insured limits by approximately $2,742,000.

Restricted Cash

Operation Homefront's restricted cash consists of funds collected from the military families or veterans for escrowed deposits, real estate taxes, home insurance and homeowners association fees that are participating in Homes on the Homefont. These funds are not considered to be cash and cash equivalents; thus, they are classified separately on the statement of financial position.

Accounts and Notes Receivable

All receivables are shown net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. The allowance is determined by management based upon history and an analysis of specific accounts. Receivables are written off against the allowance when management determines uncollectibility. As of December 31, 2013 and 2012, there is no allowance.

Unconditional Promises to Give/Contributions

All contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor. Amounts received that are designated for future periods or are restricted by the donor for specific purposes are reported as temporarily restricted or permanently restricted support, which increases those net asset classes. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Gifts that are originally restricted by the donor and for which the restriction is met in the same time period are recorded as unrestricted restricted.

Unconditional promises to give are recorded at the estimated collectible amount. Conditional promises to give are not included as support until the conditions are substantially met. An allowance for uncollectible unconditional promises to give has not been established, as management does not deem one necessary based on past collection history.

Contributed property and equipment are recorded at fair value at the date of donation. Operation Homefront records contributed property and equipment as unrestricted support unless explicit donor stipulations specify how the donated assets must be used. If a donor stipulates how long the assets must be used, the contribution is recorded as restricted support.

Investments and Investment Return

Investments in equity securities, corporate bonds, government securities and mutual funds having a readily determinable fair value and all debt securities are carried at fair value. Investment return includes dividends, interest and realized and unrealized gains and is net of taxes and investment costs.

Investment return is reflected in the statements of activities as unrestricted or temporarily restricted based upon the existence and nature of any donor or legally imposed restrictions.

Inventory

Inventory is stated at the lower of cost (on a first-in, first-out basis) or market. Inventories consist of promotional items for field office use and for resale to the public.

Contributed Goods Inventory

Contributed goods inventory consists of in-kind contributions of goods, including gift cards, children's toys and other household items acquired through major retail donations, for distribution and use in Operation Homefront's programs and are valued at the estimated fair value as of the date the goods are contributed.

Contributed Houses Inventory

Contributed houses inventory consists of in-kind contributions of houses from various financial institutions received by Operation Homefront for distribution in the Organization's programs, and are valued at the estimated fair value as of the date contributed, less the present value of the estimated closing costs to Operation Homefront.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment purchased, as well as the cost of those improvements which increase the economic useful lives of the assets, are recorded at cost. Repairs and maintenance are charged to operations as incurred. Depreciation is recorded using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of 3 - 10 years for furniture and equipment. Operation Homefront capitalizes all additions greater than $500.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue represents program revenue attributable to a special event that has not yet been completed as of year-end.

Temporarily and Permanently Restricted Net Assets

The financial statement presentation follows the recommendations of the financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB), ASC Topic 958, Not-for-Profit Entities. In accordance with ASC 958, Operation Homefront is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets and permanently restricted net assets.

Temporarily restricted net assets are those whose use by Operation Homefront has been limited by donors to a specific time period or purpose.

As of December 31, 2013 and 2012, Operation Homefront had no permanently restricted net assets.

Expiration of Donor-imposed Restrictions

The expiration of a donor-imposed restriction on a contribution is recognized in the period in which the restriction expires and, at that time, the related resources are reclassified to unrestricted net assets. A restriction expires when the stipulated time has elapsed or specified purpose restriction has been met.

Income Taxes

Operation Homefront is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) as an organization described in IRC 501(c)(3) and a similar provision of state law.

Operation Homefront files tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction. With a few exceptions, Operation Homefront is no longer subject to U.S. federal examinations by tax authorities for years before 2010.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of supporting the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Certain costs have been allocated among the program, management and general and fundraising categories based on direct salaries and other methods.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to the 2012 financial statements to conform to the 2013 financial statement presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on the change in net assets.

Note 3: Unconditional Promises to Give

Note 9: Leases

Operation Homefront leases office space in various cities where its field offices and headquarters are located under noncancellable operating leases with monthly payments ranging from $300 to $11,716 with varying expiration dates through October 2017. The Organization also leases warehouse and storage facilities in multiple locations which are used for the storage of the various inventories of in-kind donations. The agreements are month-to-month and have monthly payments ranging from $100 to $833.

In addition, the Organization leases apartment units for disabled service members discharged from military service who are transitioning from a military base housing arrangement to more permanent housing. These agreements have monthly payments ranging from $867 to $2,278 with varying expiration dates through June 2014.

The aggregate minimum future lease payments on noncancellable leases at December 31, 2013, are as follows:

2014	$ 386,789
2015	$ 203,381
2016	$ 155,907

Note 10: Defined Contribution Plan

Operation Homefront maintains a defined contribution 401(k) employee benefit plan for employees who have completed three months of service and are a least 18 years old. Contribution expense amounted to $69,496 and $51,004 for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively.

Note 11: Disclosures about Fair Value of Assets

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value measurements must maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. There is a hierarchy of three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs supported by little or no market activity and are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies and inputs used for assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis and recognized in the accompanying statements of financial position, as well as the general classification of such assets pursuant to the calculation hierarchy. There have been no significant changes in the valuation techniques during the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012.

Investments

Where quoted market prices are available in an active market, securities are classified within Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. Level 1 securities include registered investment funds, equity securities and cash and cash equivalents. If quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated by using quoted prices of securities with similar characteristics or independent asset pricing services and pricing models, the inputs of which are market-based or independently sourced market parameters, including, but not limited to, yield curves, interest rates, volatilities, prepayments, defaults, cumulative loss projections and cash flows. Such securities are classified in Level 2 of the valuation hierarchy. In certain cases where Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available, securities are classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy. At December 31, 2013 and 2012, Operation Homefront had no Level 3 securities.

Recurring Measurements

The following table presents the fair value measurements of assets recognized in the accompanying statements of financial position measured at fair value on a recurring basis and the level within the fair value hierarchy in which the fair value measurements fall at September 30:

Note 12: Significant Estimates and Concentrations

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require disclosure of certain significant estimates and current vulnerabilities due to certain concentrations. Those matters include the following:

Investments

Operation Homefront invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such change could materially affect the amounts reported in the accompanying statements of financial position.

Contributions

For the year ended December 31, 2013, 34 percent of total support, revenue and other income which represents $25,260,145 worth of contributed houses were received from two financial institutions.

Note 13: Contingency

From time-to-time, the Organization is subject to litigation that arises in the ordinary course of business. Operation Homefront maintains sufficient insurance in force to cover such litigation subject to its deductible. Although the amount of any liability with respect to currently pending litigation cannot be determined, in the opinion of management, such liability will not have a material adverse effect on Operation Homefront's financial condition or results of operations.

Note 14: Subsequent Events

Subsequent events have been evaluated through the date of the Independent Auditor's Report on the financial statements, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.
